

1000 most common words transcribed into TSR

Each entry is formatted as shown by the following examples:

according acording. (TS applies doubling rule incorrectly. TSR introduces new spelling.)
either (1) eether. (Depends on pronunciation. TSR introduces new spelling.)
either (2) iether. (Depends on pronunciation. TSR introduces new spelling.) live (adj) live.
live (verb) liv. (TSR introduces new spelling. TSR removes redundant letter.)

The main entry is in TS, in bold. The entries are listed in alphabetical order. Some words have more than one entry. For example, either may be transcribed as eether or as iether, depending on pronunciation; live may be an adjective or a verb.

The main entry is followed by the TSR spelling.

Any notes are shown in parentheses; these explain:

1. why there are multiple entries, if necessary;
2. what is wrong with the TS spelling;
3. what changes TSR makes (many spellings are unchanged);
4. whether the TSR spelling is still to be decided.
